

Heraldry of the City of London and its Livery Companies

Online and print resources for further exploration

Thank you for attending the my lecture on the Heraldry of the City of London and its Livery Companies. The following resources may aid your further exploration:

Websites of Heraldic Authorities and Learned Societies

HM College of Arms

The Court of Lord Lyon \(Scotland\)

Office of the Chief Herald of Ireland \(Irish Republic\)

The Canadian Heraldic Authority \(Canada\)

The Heraldry Society

The Heraldry Society of Scotland

The White Lion Society

The Royal Heraldry Society of Canada

The New Zealand Heraldry Society

The Australian Heraldry Society

Blog Articles

The Arms of the City of London in the 21st century

Why Liverymen should petition for Arms

Know your Heraldic ABC \(Arms, Badge and Crest\): Part 1 - Myths Debunked

Know your Heraldic ABC \(Arms, Badge and Crest\): Part 2 - Armorial Achievements Explained

Papers of the Guildhall Historical Association

Mayoral Heraldry

Heraldic Artists who work for City Livery Companies

Timothy Noad \(HM College of Arms\)

Quentin Peacock \(Digital Heraldic Artist\)

Livery Company Armorial Merchandise

A2 Poster of the Arms of the City Livery Companies (£5 excl P&P)

Downloadable PDF file of the above (£9)

500 piece laser-cut wooden jigsaw of the above (£42 excl P&P)

Books on City and Livery Treasures

The Heraldry of the Livery Companies of the City of London since 1954 by Richard Goddard (2017), ISBN: 978-0-99346-803-2

The Armorial Bearings of the Guild of London by John Bromley & Heather Child (1960) published by Frederick Warne & Co.

Note: This is still available from antiquarian book sellers such as abebooks.co.uk

Coat-Armour of the London Livery Companies, an enquiry based upon original research by Charles Welch (1914) published by Chiswick Press

Note: This is a reproduction of Wallis's London's Armory (1677). Physical copies are held at the British Library, University of Cambridge Library, University of London Senate House Library. An online copy is available.